hanged. Yet in this case the gain is rather on the score of public order, quiet streets, and uninterrupted traffic. The horrors of an execution mob, great as they may be, have, we. believe been exaggerated but we cannot agree with those who hald that the punishment of death will lose all its terrors if it he not exhibited before the people. This would be to argue that none can fear to be banged except those who have witnessed executions. As little. is it to be admitted that the principle of Capital Punishment is given up when the execution is concealed from the multitude. The deterring effect of panishment arises from the knowledge se that it has been inflicted; whether it has been actually witnessed is a minor considerareltion. The most valid argument in favour t of this measure is that it satisfies the feelings of that large class which, without desiring to Tie give up the punishment of death, is auxious be that it should be divested as much as possible of what shocks the inagination. The party which we call. For want of any better word, and in no offensive spirit, "hamanitarians" have mingled with their arguments ke against Capital Punishment so many andig. t; naut remonstrances at the scenes which they fell I us are witnessed at executions that the modeell rate portion of the public are not unwilling to all try the experiment of separating the two ad elements which have hithorto made up the or grievance. Hence the principle of intransural the executions—the only part of the claborate re-ine commendations of the Munier Commission which the Government thinks famille-is der offered us in a Bill by itself, and if it prove ge- effective in allaying the agitation of the last to few years, it may be regarded as successful. ffer The opinion of the country, bowever much inep fluenced by the opponents of Capital Punishat ment has never given up the belief that such a tal. punishment is in extreme cases justifiable and necessary, and it may be that of late there has of been a reaction against excessive lonity. Certainly murderers have been convicted and hanged who some years ago would have been acquitted on the ground of insanity, or would have been found by mild-tempered juries to be d of only guilty of manslaughter. If by altering even the means of inflicting the extreme penalty of tion the laws we may provent its being altogether repealed, it may be worth while to try the exthe periment, even at the risk of the inconveniences. COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE Hougkong, Tuesday Evening.

There has been some little enquiry from the natives for Rengal Drug at $650 for new Pulna, and $6371 for Benares. Malwa continues dult apro. at $670 to $675. The following are to-day's closing rates—New Patna $650, firm. New re we Benates 26371, firm. Fourth sales New Patua ph to to arrive $655, firm. Malwa $670 to $670, n be There has been scarcely any-business doing diate in the general markets, the usual occupation of ment, mails absorbing the attention of the European night portion of the community. There has been a small amount of business doing among the natives in produce, as will be observed from the tween sales giren below. too The following fortnightly review of the markets is from the "Overland Trade Report" pire. of this date:— The past fortnight has been characterized by almost an entire absence of business in the market for manufactured imports as will be observed from the resume of the period under review given below, second and the few transactions that have taken place are spital with but few exceptions purchases by foreigners walls for shipment to the Northern and Coast ports. that The native element of the commercial community liat it have been absent from the colony engaged with the stions annual ancestral worship usual at this period of the us we year, and consequently business from this quarter with few exceptions, and these merely for the supply of a few local wants, must be considered to have been antifely suspended, while an absence of unything. like active speculation has rendered the market for imported goods devoid of all interest. Notwithlly the standing this stagnation however, the position of the market is much better than at first sight could are be expected, and there are evident eigns of the ament prevalence of a very healthy tone for all descrippesible tions of goods. Importers and holders encouraged by pro- the favorable advices received from the north, with where manufactured goods are in fair demand and the markets very bucyant, as well as by the con-ters of tinued favorable advices from home, and the recent all be advance in crohange here; are exceedingly from, for the and show a bold front compared with the conwhich dition of affairs only a short time since, and as soon as the natives return from the interior, or the and again enter the market, it would seem cafe to predict a large and remunerative business. Further than this broad statement however i would seem rather hazardous to speculate with tion; respect to the future since there are many clebrgeon ments which must have an important influence, hd sign | that at the present moment are scarrely developed at the to the extent necessary for even an experienced decla. person to form an opinion. The coming for season hin 24 for instance, of which at present then are only the sest, at vaguest rumors, has an important bearing upon the future of trade in almost every unticle of import. Again it has been noticed by close observers hat when the natives are large purchasers of the Raw material, Cotton and Youn, there is a proportionate decrease in the consumption of manufacthred good, but this only consequent upon an abundance of unemployed and therefore cherp ajority labor, rendered so by the low price and abunindeed, the Chinese, Rice. On the other side, the rather k of the large supplies of goods now in hand and the furtherder on that considerable quantities of cargo, purchased at vide not very much cheaper rates than those now rolling ke Lord tion in speculating for the future of this market for ter like the next six months. Aside from the present depression on account of the absence of business, the present condition of the market cannot but be. considered as satisfactory, and there is no decline to report in the prices for any goods while perhaps in one or two cases a shade of improvement is to be noticed. Orey Shirtings, have searcely received any attention, there have been a few speculative purchases of T-Clotha and a small demand for Yarn. Fancy Cottons and Woolfens have been quite nu-glected. There have been no arrivals from Londonduring the past fortnight. The Geo Crowsleaw is overdue having now been out over five mouths and the Wenges Castle, Black Prince and Chusan may he looked for during the next fortnight.
